OBJECTIVE:

To combine my vast experience in the intelligence collection, analysis and reporting arena with my real-world experience in biometrics collection and identity resolution in order to present the greatest amount of situational awareness possible to the customer.

SUMMARY OF QUALIFICATIONS:

A retired US Army Warrant Officer with twenty one years of military experience in intelligence collection, processing, analysis and reporting; extensive experience in intelligence analysis, to include all-source targeting, geospatial analysis and fusion, human terrain analysis – both ethnographic and cultural, open source research and analysis, and analysis/fusion of social network information in support of other intelligence modalities; highly experienced in resource and collection management and in providing and directing intelligence support to military, law enforcement and intelligence agencies. Experienced in criminal investigations, drug suppression operations, counter-terrorism planning and operations, and in the management of intelligence operations; certified as a senior military instructor and small group facilitator and seven years of experience as adjunct faculty for a major university. Nearly fifteen years of experience as a government contractor, specializing in technical consulting and advising on intelligence programs, from requisite telecommunications and network architecture to biometric-enabled intelligence products in support of targeting. Experience deployed to a combat theater of operations, conducting biometric collection, analysis, processing and reporting. Experienced in detainee operations, support to interrogation and control elements within operational detention facilities, and biometric identity resolution.
